

YEAR IN JAIL, $500 FINE FOR ELOPING PARSON IN OHIO

The Rev. W. W. Culp, Who Must Serve in Workhouse,
Sobs at Sentence.

XENIA, O., July 19.—The Rev. W. W. Culp, former Spring Valley, O., minister who eloped with Miss Esther Hughes, eighteen, a boarder at the Culp home, late yesterday pleaded guilty of deserting his family and was sentenced to serve one year in the workhouse and was fined $500.

Facing the court to enter his confession, Culp sobbed:

"I realize I am at the bar of justice authorized by law of God; I realize I have violated not only the law of the country, but of God. I have deep contrition. I feel it keenly. I do not know why my life should have gone this way."

The mother of Culp's nine small children forgave her husband after he had been sentenced. Entering the room where she was, he threw his arms about her and pleaded for forgiveness. "I forgive you," was all she was heard to say.

In opening his statement in court, Culp said:

"I married at nineteen at the advice of my parents. I stuck to it because I felt it was my duty, although I did not love my wife. I pleaded with my wife to be converted so she could be a help to me, but failed."

"I have blamed her severely, maybe unjustly. She can't help some things. She was never educated. When they said she was crazy I defended her."

"I was always embarrassed in every way by her actions until Esther came into my life. Esther was an active worker in the church and inspired me."

Culp then recited how his affections for the girl had grown until the two had started on the elopement, June 14.

Returning to a discussion of his family, the prisoner said he wanted his children to be with him.

"I don't know whether the law will let me have them again," he said, "but I would rather go to prison than to hell. I am willing to prove to the world that I am a true man and that my motives were not base."

Russian Children Almost Bury
Richard and Brown With Tributes.

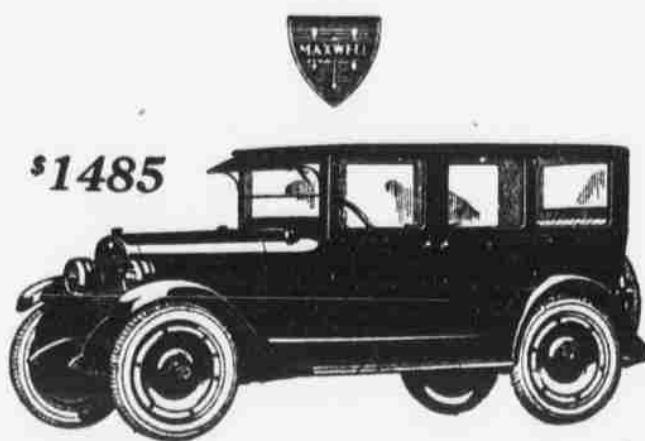

LONDON, July 19.—When Edgar Richard of New York, Director General of the American Relief Administration, and Walter Lyman Brown of London, European Director, made their recent tour of Russia they were greeted everywhere by children with their arms filled with flowers.

At Tsarskoe Selo, the site of the former Czar's summer palace, near Petrograd, 1,500 children waited to welcome the visitors. Plushkin, the Czar's old chef, who is now cooking bean soup, cocoa and rice for the children in the A. R. A. kitchen at the palace, also remained to greet the Americans.

"These children almost buried Mr. Richard in flowers when he arrived at the palace grounds," Mr. Brown said. "In the A. R. A. kitchens we visited in Petrograd the walls were covered with drawings made by the children, endeavoring to express their appreciation for the American feeding."
